From the Archive: Saint Stephen School—PART 2

Returning Stronger Together: St. Stephen School's Pandemic Journey. On March 15, 2020, St. Stephen families received the message no one expected: the school would be closing for quarantine. What began as a presumed two-week pause became months of uncertainty and a completely new way of learning. From the start, Principal Sharon McCarty Allen remained steadfast—students would return to campus as soon as it was safe. Within two days, every student had an iPad, teachers transformed classrooms into Zoom rooms, and beloved traditions were reimagined through virtual fashion shows, livestreamed graduations, and a heartfelt Teacher Appreciation Day car parade. When San Francisco's Department of Public Health released reopening requirements, St. Stephen met every one. Desks were fitted with protectors, Donworth Hall became a classroom, cleaning routines intensified, and teachers stepped into expanded roles. Reopening rolled out in phases, and students adapted beautifully, embracing new routines and the joy of being together again.

This extraordinary effort was made possible by the generosity and resilience of the St. Stephen community. Years of fundraising by the Women's Guild provided the resources needed for safe reopening—face coverings, hygiene supplies, ventilation improvements, cleaning equipment, signage, and virtual learning tools. That support was more than financial; it was an act of love that gave parents peace of mind, teachers confidence, and students the chance to thrive. "Community is alive and well here," Mrs. Allen reflected. "When things are tough, that's when you show what you're made of." Through her weekly messages of encouragement and the unshakable spirit of Cougar Country, St. Stephen School emerged from the pandemic stronger, more united, and deeply proud of what it accomplished together.

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

This week, we celebrate Catholic Schools Week here at our parish, in the Archdiocese, and throughout our nation. When Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton and Saint John Neumann laid the foundation of parochial schools in the United States in the early 19th century, likely they could not have imagined the contribution they were making to the whole of American society. Since that time, Catholic schools have formed countless young people, both Catholics and non-Catholics, because of our Christian mission to bring knowledge to all. We are grateful for the work of our school Principal Mrs. Sharon McCarthy-Allen, our preschool director Mrs. Kerry O'Shaughnessy, and their fine team of teachers, aides, and staff. We are also filled with gratitude for all the volunteer hours of our parents and grandparents whose contributions strengthen our school as well as the work of our Athletic Director Anthony Renteria and the many volunteer coaches of our athletic program. Without the dedicated work of all these people, along with our generous benefactors, we would not be able to carry out the work of preaching the Gospel in our words and deeds.

With the end of the calendar year, we are receiving the finals totals from the 2025 Archdiocesan Annual Appeal. Our parish assessment was $80,916 and with your generosity, households contributed $73,964 towards our assessment. That left a deficit $6,952 that our parish pays from our savings. I am very grateful with your generosity, knowing that we also asked for contributions this past year to the 75th anniversary fund.

On a related note, knowing our parish's unhealthy financial situation, last spring I wrote to the Vicar for Administration and CFO of the Archdiocese requesting if any financial consideration could be given to our parish. I submitted a proposal which included projected budgets and some cost cutting measures we were going to take, along with some reasons for our need. This summer, we received a one-time subsidy of $115,000 from monies that are set aside to assist parishes in financial need. With these funds, we were able to proceed with the rectory boiler project even though we had not yet raised the money through the 75th Anniversary Fund. Because we were able to raise the funds, we proceeded with a sorely needed maintenance project in the rectory of replacing much of the carpeting with laminate flooring (one of the cases I made for the subsidy). For those of you who had been in the rectory recently, you would know the carpeting needed to be replaced for health and safety reasons. We had solicited some bids for new flooring in the fall of 2024 but the cost was not doable at the time. With the subsidy, we could proceed once again and going back to the vendors, we went with Armstrong Carpet and Linoleum located in West Portal. The final cost of the project was $50,500, a hefty sum, but considering this is a product that should last decades, it is a wise investment. With the remaining funds from the subsidy, we will be also looking at proceeding with some of the tile roof work on the church and rectory as well as some other issues that are coming on the radar and will need to be addressed in the near future. Stay tuned.
